BLOODY FIGHTING IS RAGING IN RUSSIA

NO LIMIT ON LIQUOR FOR NON-BEVERAGE PURPOSES, RULES ATTORNEY GENERAL

Question Of Limitation Solely With Physicians

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The government is without authority to prohibit or limit the manufacture and sale of liquors, wines, or beer for non-beverage purposes, according to an opinion made by the attorney general, made public today by the internal revenue bureau.

The opinion, one of the most comprehensive dealing with the question of prohibition, expressly states that there must be no limitation on the use of liquors for non-beverage purposes except that prescribed by congress in limiting the sale of spirituous liquors to one pint for ten days. The question of limitation thus, the opinion said, is left to the good faith of the physician.

"Subject to this limitation," the opinion continued, "obviously there has been committed not to the judgment of the commissioner of internal revenue and the secretary of the treasury, but to the professional judgment of the physician, the question of the quantity of liquor that may be used to advantage as a medicine in each case."

"As to this question, I think the intention was to leave the physician unfettered by governmental control, but subject to be dealt with criminally and by revocation of his permit if he acts in bad faith."

The opinion, existence of which became known Sunday, was signed by the then attorney general, Tamm, and was dated March 3.

Mr. Tamm also said that the government was without authority to limit the number of permits, to manufacture or sell within any state or locality.

10,000 DRESS FACTORY WORKERS ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, March 9.—Approximately 10,000 workers in misses and children's dress factories went on strike today, it was announced at the headquarters of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, where it was claimed that the industry in Greater New York was practically tied up.

Saves Lives Of Fifty Persons By Catching Explosive Torpedo

BRECKINRIDGE, TEXAS, March 9.—Catching a twenty quart nitro-glycerine torpedo as it was blown from the casing by an unexpected flow of gas, Powell Wright yesterday held it until fifty persons and two hundred quarts of the explosive on a wagon reached safety. He then dropped it back into the hole with the receding gas and escaped.

The derrick was wrecked by the impact and the well caught fire when the torpedo was lifted to the crown block by a recurrence of gas.

Will Harding Lead Or Follow On Tariff Issue; Faces Difficult Problem

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Harding has taken counsel with leaders of the Senate and the House as to whether the tariff bill or the tariff shall precede in the legislative program of the special session of Congress to be convened next month but it will be Warren Harding who will have to make the decision.

Canvass today of some of the Senators and Representatives who attended the White House dinner reveals a variety of opinions as to the reconstruction policy. There are those who believe nothing can be done in the way of adjusting tariff schedules until it is definitely known how much money will be available through taxation, or, in other words, until a tax bill satisfactory to the various interests and classes of people in America discloses how much money can be safely counted upon for government revenue. Then, it is contended, the tariff bill can be framed with consideration of revenue. For obviously there are concerns in the United States who want a tariff law written that will not necessarily give the government revenue out of certain schedules but which will give American industry a chance to compete with overseas goods.

Would Avoid Householders' Expense
The question of where the revenue will be obtained on imports is more over tied up with the greater consideration of levying taxes on products that enter into the cost of living. If, as it looks now, some of the items that would have to be taxed in a tariff bill would increase some items in the householders' budget, some members of Congress prefer that the money be derived through other methods rather than the tariff.

It is much easier, for example, from

Cut All Along Down The Line On Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 9.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today adopted a resolution directing the executive officers to give as promptly as possible proper notice that it is the intention of the company to reduce the salaries and wages of officers and employees to accord with economic conditions.

The resolution did not specify any amount in the proposed reductions. While no specific officers were mentioned, it was understood at the offices of the company, it would affect every one from the president of the company down.

Roosevelt's Nomination Confirmed

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—The nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of the navy was confirmed today by the senate.

Austria Next! Must Observe Treaty Clauses

VIENNA, March 9.—Formal notice that it would be required to fulfill the livestock provisions of the treaty of St. Germain was served upon the Austrian government by the reparations commission today. This involves the delivery to Italy, Jugoslavia and Rumania of 20,000 head of cattle, including 6,000 milch cows.

The American representatives on the reparations body before their withdrawal had together with the British opposed previous attempts by the interested nations to secure such action.

GERMAN ENVOYS IN PARIS, LONDON AND BRUSSELS ARE CALLED BACK TO BERLIN

PARIS, March 9.—Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, the German ambassador, left Paris for Berlin this morning.

BRUSSELS, March 9.—Dr. Landsberg, the German minister here, who has been recalled by his government, left Brussels yesterday for Berlin.

It was semi-officially announced in Berlin that the German diplomatic representatives at London, Paris and Brussels had been summoned to Berlin. A London dispatch yesterday stated that Dr. St. Hamer, the German ambassador to Great Britain, would leave London for Berlin within a few hours, the embassy to remain open with the counsellor in charge.

BERLIN, March 9.—Protests voiced before the supreme allied council in London by Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, and head of the German delegation at the reparations conference, were emphatically endorsed by Chancellor Konstantin Fehrenbach, who spoke before the reichstag yesterday. After announcing that negotiations at London had been broken off and that the German delegation was returning to Berlin, the chancellor said:

"This violation of law and justice can not be defended on any juridical grounds. It assumes doubly pernicious aspects when directed against a people from whom the last defense has been taken. The events of the past week have convinced the government the methods pursued by the allies can not possibly accomplish the rehabilitation of Europe nor bring about a liquidation of the war."

"In the course of the London negotiations, Foreign Minister Simons appealed to history," said the chancellor in discussing the question of responsibility for the war. "I feel permitted to declare the judgment of history is already established and that the nature of the verdict is such that any attempt to fasten responsibility solely upon Germany must fail."

3 Assistant Secretaries Renominated

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—Three assistant secretaries of the treasury, S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., of Bloomfield, N. J.; Ewing LaPorte, of St. Louis; and Nicholas Kelley, of New York, were renominated today by President Harding.

Original Recipes For Using Canned Foods

Here is a handsome booklet containing over 40 solid pages of new recipes that tell the housewife how to serve canned foods more attractively. These original recipes are so fine they are being used by the teachers in many of the leading schools of domestic science.

In the back of the book there is a complete index listing in alphabetical order 27 different kinds of soups, and enumerating a total of 216 new recipes, including everything from apple dumplings to white sauce.

It has been said that any woman who goes to the book of recipes will wear it out from use — and when she does she can have a new one. No charge except two cents in stamps for return postage.

In filling out the coupon print name and address or be sure to write plainly:

POLITICAL LIEUTENANTS MURDERED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 9.—Rewards of $5,000 were offered today by Alderman John Powers, of the 19th ward, for the capture of the men who yesterday shot and killed two of Powers' political lieutenants, Paul A. Lablola and Harry Layman.

One man was under arrest today in connection with the case, but police refused to disclose his identity. Four gunmen said to have been imported from New York were reported to have been connected with the shooting. Lablola was killed within a block of his home and Raymond in his cigar store a few blocks away.

Police were detailed to guard the home of Tony Girard, another precinct captain for Alderman Powers in recent aldermanic elections, when he said he had received death threats similar to those sent Lablola.

All things point to trouble originating in the recent election," Powers said.

Several bombings occurred during the campaign.

Favor Motion Picture Bill

COLUMBUS, O., March 9.—The house judiciary committee today recommended the McCoy motion picture bill for passage after amending it to prohibit the showing of pictures depicting crimes which are felonies under Ohio laws. As originally drawn, the bill prohibited the showing of all crime pictures including those which are listed as misdemeanors.

One Bullet Wounds Three Infantrymen

NEW YORK, March 9.—Three members of the twenty-third infantry regiment, New York National Guard, injured late last night by one bullet, discharged from a service rifle in the regimental armory.

The bullet first struck James Golder, passed through his body and severed the shoulder of Daniel Bernadine, striking the wall it ricocheted, inflicting a slight wound in another man's left hand.

A fourth member of the regiment was detained by the police, pending an investigation.

COLUMBUS—Ray B. Foster, 30, Columbus, arrested at Hebron, near here, in connection with the finding of the body of Opal Sowards, 10, in a cottage at Buckeye Lake. The cause of the girl's death has not been disclosed by officials.

WHITE RUSSIA DECLARES ITS INDEPENDENCE

WARSAW, March 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The White Ruthenians have proclaimed their independence from Russia, according to a Minsk report received here today. (The Ruthenians meant, probably, are those inhabiting what is known as White Russia, comprising the southwestern Russian provinces adjoining upon Minsk.)

COPENHAGEN, March 9.—(By the Associated Press)—News of the Russian situation today, was conflicting, with the latest Helsingfors dispatches reporting that the soviet government forces had recaptured the fortresses of Krasnoya, Gorko and Syslerbal this morning and were training the big guns of these fortresses upon Kronstadt, where fires were observed.

An infantry assault by the soviet troops upon Kronstadt is reported to have been repulsed with enormous losses to the attacking forces.

These reports were preceded by claims made in Helsingfors dispatches that Petrograd was in the hands of the revolutionaries. According to a Reval special, however, the soviet troops recaptured the southeastern suburbs of Petrograd.

Thousands of fugitives from Petrograd are clamoring for entry into Finland, the Finnish advised state.

COPENHAGEN, March 9.—Petrograd is reported to be in the hands of revolutionary forces which for several days have been fighting against Russian Bolshevik troops near the city, says a special dispatch from Helsingfors, received here this morning.

The revolutionary forces were victorious, the dispatch declared, after a terrific bombardment of Petrograd from Kronstadt, Kronsua, Gorko and Syslerbal, which was followed by machine gun battles in the streets of the city.

The tenth congress of the Russian Communist party opened at Moscow yesterday under difficult circumstances, the message states.

"The republic is surrounded by an endless number of enemies," it continues. "The short breathing space given Russia has been interrupted by new entente intrigues. The tasks confronting the republic must be carried through at a time when she is struggling against counter-revolutionaries."

The Soviet Version LONDON, March 9.—Workers in Soviet Russia are unanimously indignant over the revolutionary uprising at Kronstadt, and are begging to be allowed to fight against the forces engaged with soviet troops there, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow. It is said in the dispatch that "friction is beginning to be noticeable among the mutineers."

Harding's First Message To Congress Urges Ratification Of Treaty With Columbia

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—Ratification of the long pending treaty with Columbia is urged by President Harding in his first formal message sent today to the senate.

Immediately upon receiving the message the senate went into executive session, the usual procedure in taking up treaties.

The text of the message was not made public at the White House, officials holding that it was executive business which could not properly be given out unless the senate so decided. The senate closed its doors without making the message public.

$1,800,000 Profit On $350,000,000 Business By Sugar Refiners

NEW YORK, March 9.—The volume of business done by the American Sugar Refining Company in 1920 shows an increase of $50,000,000 over the previous year, according to the annual report made public today.

The total of $350,000,000, President Earl Babst explained, represents the smallest tonnage handled in the history of the company, high prices alone accounting for the increase of gross receipts.

Operating profit of $1,800,000 was $3,400,000 less than in 1919, and about one half cent on each dollar of sales, or a profit of less than one mill per pound.

Referring to the increased sugar supply, President Babst says:

"The amount in the national sugar bowl in 1920 represented 111 pounds for each person in the United States. The increased supply in 1920 over 1919 was sufficient to last the United States from Labor Day until almost Thanksgiving."

Sawyer To Probe Health Matters For President

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—Dr. C. E. Sawyer, of Marion, Ohio, nominated today by President Harding to be White House physician, with the rank of brigadier general in the army medical reserve corps, also will make an investigation of public health matters for Mr. Harding. He will be authorized to formulate suggestions for a concrete plan of co-ordination of government agencies for safeguarding public welfare.

Bandits Hold Up Steamship Agency Offices

LORAIN, O., March 9.—Two armed bandits this morning held up the Forgy and Sons steamship agency office at South Lorain, secured eleven hundred dollars and two gold watches from the pockets of the proprietors and the cash drawer and escaped in an automobile.

THREE DAYS STARTING TOMORROW

A STORY OF
QUAINT NEW ENGLANDDOWN HOME

Distributed by W. W. Hodkinson Corp.

A GENUINE picture of rural New England life is "Down Home," the Irvin V. Willat production shown at the Columbia Theatre this week. All the delightful old landmarks are there, from the blacksmith shop and the old-fashioned fire department, to the village store where, amid the molasses kegs and bolts of unbleached muslin, the villagers congregate to discuss every topic from the latest invention in rat-traps to why little Mary Ann Jenkins caught the measles.

Here also was taken up, day after day, the question of Nancy Pelot's going to Redburn, the next town, to play the piano at a small wayside inn, and whether or not in so doing she was ruining her reputation. Most of the gossip, men and women, loved as how she had, but young Chet Todd, strong, upright lad that he was, scorned their idle chatter. He was very much in love with the appealing young girl who was struggling so hard to make a living for herself and her aged father, and he determined to prove her innocence.

Thus you are introduced to the various characters in "Down Home," and from this beginning to the very end, your keen interest is sustained. It is a well-acted, splendidly directed, realistically staged story. The tense dramatic incidents that occur in the lives of these "home folks" are relieved by delightful flashes of humor, resulting in a well-balanced, highly satisfactory entertainment.

High Court Refuses To Determine The Amount Of Noise "Church" May Make; Decision Reversed

Hearing of the celebrated injunction suit of Eunice A. Gunn, 1103 Twelfth street, against A. Caudill, leader of religious sect known as "Holy Rollers" conducting alleged religious meetings at a small building at 1103 Twelfth street under the designation as the "Full Gospel Mission," was suddenly ended Wednesday morning when the Court of Appeals halted the trial, after hearing the testimony of a number of witnesses called in behalf of the plaintiff, dismissed the petition and made a finding in favor of the defendant.

The court in dismissing the petition took occasion to comment on the case, and stated that the acts complained of by the plaintiff and supported by the evidence adduced were not calculated to inspire any large degree of confidence of the methods employed in making demonstrations by those who are convinced at the place and that it amounted to disorderly conduct and finally, a proper occasion for police intervention.

The court said that nothing had been shown except the making of noises and demonstrations of which the plaintiff complained and that no showing had been made that the acts complained of interfered with the personal or property right of anyone. The court further stated that persons have a right to worship in any manner they see fit so as not to disturb others and that it was not in the province of a court of equity to make an order limiting the amount of noise that could be made in religious exercises as it would be necessary to determine to what extent these demonstrations might go.

Mrs. Gunn testified in support of her petition that Caudill for a long time has maintained and conducted alleged religious meetings at the Twelfth street address, which is directly across the street from her home, harbored all classes of people at all hours of the day and night with pretended religious exercises, making loud and disagreeable noises, talking in what was termed the "unknown tongue" causing great confusion and disturbing the peace and quiet of the neighborhood. She stated that she had been awakened as early as four a. m. by loud and disorderly shouting and screaming at so-called "Sunrise" prayer meetings and she declared that the meetings kept up such an uproar in the vicinity that she has been deprived of sleep and rest, the comfortable use of her home and that her health has been impaired.

A number of other witnesses including Mrs. Sarah Bickel, Joseph C. Stegall, Mrs. Nona Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sparks, Edward Westphal and Thomas Gunn, all of whom live in the vicinity, were called to the witness stand and they supported the story of the plaintiff.

One witness said that a female member of the flock appeared on the outside of the building on one occasion shouting she was ready to go home to glory and another told of members of the flock kicking up their heels, rolling on the floor, screaming, squeaking and squawling in the "unknown tongue" during the services. Another witness said that Caudill once backed up and kicked and stated that people living in the vicinity frequently flocked to the place out of curiosity to see members do the "shimmy" dance.

On the hearing in Common Pleas court Judge Thomas granted an injunction restraining the defendant from carrying on the meetings in the manner complained of and the case was then appealed to the higher court.

Attorney T. C. Beatty for the plaintiff and Attorneys Blair and Blair for defendant.

Holy Spirit and then go and be a witness for Me." They did that and the church grew by leaps and bounds.

The friendly citizen group is fictitious as the church people are the ones that are spreading the Kingdom of God. God wants us all to be witnesses for Him to our loved ones, our business associates and our friends and to all with whom we come in contact. We should be as interested in winning others to Christ as we are to sell material things to them.

Prayer meetings are held at 2 o'clock at the church. Services in the evenings begin at seven-thirty. Wednesday evening Rev. Butler will speak on "The Holy Spirit."

Friday night is Sunday school night and the Sunday school orchestra will be present. All are cordially invited to attend these meetings at Trinity.

AT FRANKLIN AVENUE M. E.
A large crowd of earnest people met at Franklin Avenue M. E. church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 to greet Dr. A. J. Ramsey of Pasadena, Cal., and Rev. Robert C. McQuilkin of Philadelphia, Pa., who are conducting a Victorious Life Conference, which will continue throughout the week, closing with Sunday evening.

Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, Pastor of Franklin Avenue Church, led the singing of the inspirational songs from the Victorious Life Hymnal, to which the audience responded heartily. Rev. McQuilkin gave the address of the evening, his subject being "What is the Victorious Life?" He based his talk on the meeting between Jesus and the woman of Samaria as recorded in John 4:1-26 and startled his hearers by asking what feelings would be experienced should a personal interview with the Lord Jesus be arranged for each individual at the close of the service.

"There would be a mingling of shrinking fear and longing desire. The one caused by the presence of sin in the life and the other by the desperate need of the soul, which only Jesus can supply."

The simplicity of the Gospel, the Good News, was emphasized. The speaker showed that while eternity is required to fathom God's word yet the right to enter into any particular need is plain and simple. The approach to the Woman of Samaria was made by a simple request for a drink of water, and in the simplest conversation Jesus revealed himself to her as the very One who could supply her greatest longing and need.

The second result of this life of victory is fruitbearing. The truth the church is different from any other organization, in that things are accomplished in it that only God can do. If any individual of church does not have this distinguishing mark, namely the power to do humanly impossible things, there is only one reason it does not here. The one thing that robs a Christian of a life of fruitfulness is sin, and the only one who can deliver from sin is Jesus Christ. No promise is given that the life of victory is a life free from temptation. Instead, new temptations and strong ones are laid against such a life. But in Him is plentiful redemption. "But if thou knowest—Who it is—thou wouldst have asked—and He would have given."

Meetings every afternoon at 3:00 p. m. which Dr. Ramsey will conduct a full study and will be followed by McQuilkin who will make life lessons for the principles studied. Evening meetings begin at 7:30 with a song service, followed by an address by one of the speakers.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Organ Recital Opens Evangelistic Service Tonight

The Union Evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian church tonight will be preceded by an organ recital by Mrs. C. A. Demarest, beginning at seven o'clock. Mrs. Demarest was for eight years the organist in two of the largest churches of Louisville, and is a master of that instrument. The recital tonight will make a rare appeal to many lovers of music and is especially planned to favor those who come early for the sake of a favorite seat.

Tonight Mrs. Demarest will speak on "World-Wide Affliction." As she is a woman of international reputation and acquaintance, having held gospel services in eleven different countries, in which she made use of her fluent knowledge of four languages, she will undoubtedly be able to speak with great power and authority.

A few days ago people were still asking, dubiously, whether a mere woman could interest real men and women in an evangelistic message. This question has been utterly forgotten by the large numbers who have been flocking to hear Mrs. Victoria Booth-Childers Demarest at the First Presbyterian church. The doubting "Can such things be?" is quite swallowed up in the intense interest with which those who come follow her message.

She is so different from what people thought a woman speaker would be. Her voice is full of power and vigor, yet holds an appealing sweetness. She possesses a presence which would be the envy of most stage folk; yet there is not the slightest trace of the actress visible in her at any time; she rises quite aloofly into the realm of sincerity. And her message—while it is evident that she is reaching the inner springs in the lives of what Lincoln called "God's common people"—yet her message grips and enraptures.

Thrills and stimulates those who ordinarily make the strongest intellectual demands upon any preacher they hear. "How does she do it?" "Isn't she wonderful?" were some of the expressions repeated by many of last night's throng on their way out. For, as an evangelist, Mrs. Demarest is plainly in a class by herself. There is no one like her in this part of the country today, and certainly she never could and never would try to imitate another in that field, as so many have done to their own confusion.

It became noticeable on her very first appearance that her message would have a different ring from that which is ordinarily expected of an evangelist. In the hands of the professional, the popular, concrete, bold, descriptive sermons on besetting sins usually draw the largest audiences. In Mrs. Demarest's hands, the gospel begins not with sin, but with the Savior from sin, who is to be a shadowy operator in a Divine drama and becomes incarnate in real human life. The Christ of the Gospels depicts, sin, as she deals with it, gains its horror, not from any over-descriptive, half-suggestive way of picturing it, but from the holiness of the Christ whose foe it is, and from a strange, subtle atmosphere of purity which her presence produces. While Mrs. Demarest is preaching, sin becomes a thing abominable.

These to whom this message makes an appeal are urged not to wait to the end of the series before beginning to attend, expecting the best sermons to come then. With Mrs. Demarest in the pulpit, every night calls for her supreme sermon.

Last night Mrs. Demarest spoke on "The Devil's Seal," a wonderful sermon on the Resurrection, based on Matt. 27: 66: "So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone." The speaker showed what a little thing the Roman seal—highest symbol of earthly authority—was to God. Completing the sermon of the preceding evening, when she showed how Jesus took our place on the cross, "becoming sin for us," she now made it clear that He also took our place in the grave—"the soul that slumeth, it shall surely die." From this she made the thrilling argument that having taken our place on the cross and in the grave, He also takes our place in the resurrection, "becoming the first fruits of them that sleep."

"There is a certain mark," said the speaker, "that the devil puts on every one that belongs to him. When you surrender your spirit to him you belong to him, and until you are Christ's you have made that surrender to the evil one, consciously or unconsciously. When he has you he plays with you like a cat with a mouse, mocking you, only to destroy you when he fears of play. Only when you surrender yourself to a greater Power, who can say to the devil, 'Hands off!' can you escape; and that Power is Christ. His seal on your life means salvation."

At Trinity Church

The revival services at Trinity church were well attended Tuesday evening. Mr. C. C. Bennett, assisted by a large chorus choir, led in the singing of beautiful hymns, such as "Beulah Land," "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" and "God Will Take Care of You." Mr. Vaughn Finney sang "Come To You," and Miss Beatrice Stewart sang a beautiful solo "Because He Loves Me So."

Rev. Butler then arose to speak on "The Three Errors of Our Modern Thinking." These errors are: First: There is a large group of friendly citizens outside of the church who do not link up with the church because of the unbusinesslike way many churches are conducted and because of the unhappy divisions in the Protestant churches. The Interchurch World Movement shows the falseness of this. Friendly citizens had an opportunity to help in that movement, but did not take advantage of it. Statistics show that of the money contributed to the Red Cross, J. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Armenian and European Relief funds, eighty-five per cent was given by people active in the Christian church. This is because only Christian people have been taught to be generous.

These friendly citizens are not interested in the way churches are conducted but are interested in stocks and bonds and other worldly things. They do not have time to be interested in churches and spiritual things.

Second: There are just as good people outside the church as in it. This means that those outside people are honest, live respectable lives, pay their debts and keep the commandments. But these things in themselves do not make a Christian. To be a Christian is to believe in God and his word, have Christ's passion to do good and to try to save the world from its sin and unrighteousness. To be able to do this people must belong to the Christian church as the church furnishes help and inspiration for work of this kind.

Third: Jesus expects everyone that becomes a Christian to be a missionary. Jesus does not expect us all to be missionaries and go to foreign lands but to be a witness for Him in our everyday work and life. Every disciple of Christ should be a witness for Him. Jesus said to His twelve disciples: "Stay in Jerusalem to receive the

THE DELICIOUS FLAVOR that distinguishes Pennant as a table syrup makes it also a delightful savory sweetening for cooking. It adds a delicate maple tang.

Have you ever tried Pennant syrup for sweetening home-baked beans? Or for candied sweet potatoes?

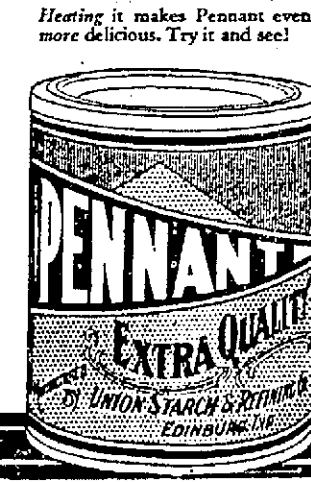

Pennant syrup makes delicious spice-cake, gingerbread and cookies.

Wherever you use syrup in cooking, Pennant syrup is better. Women who are praised for their excellent cooking find Pennant indispensable for sweetening and flavoring all cooking.

Order a can of Pennant syrup from your grocer today. The whole family—children especially—will like it.

GRANGE NEWS

Shine and Madison Granges clashed in debate Saturday night, the regular meeting night of Madison Grange. The Sunshine Grange represented by George Shumway, Hubert Parks and Miss Marie Jones, proved too much for the Madison Grange, represented by Charles Lyons, William Thompson and Sampson Eckhart, and the judges decided unanimously in favor of the visiting team. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved: That the 'Blue Laws', Prohibiting the Sale of Gasoline, Bread, etc., on Sunday, Should Be Abolished." In addition to the debate, Charles Lyons entertained the large crowd of members and visiting grangers with a solo, "Mrs. Jiggs."

In the near future the challenge will be returned and they will meet at the Sunshine Grange hall.

Grangers all over the country may be interested to know that Sunshine Grange "awoke" a couple of months ago and stands good chances of being well represented at the county grange in April. For the benefit of any Grangers who care to visit them, their regular meetings are the second and fourth Saturday nights in the month.

"Bits of Broadway"

Up to the Minute Dances and Songs Now Ready on Phonograph Re-Creations

Seven fox trots, a waltz, and two songs comprise the latest contribution of the Edison Company to the phonograph world. They are hot off the griddle so to speak, from Broadway in the smallest town of the country. Some of them are the best dance numbers produced in months.

Foremost among the fox trots, perhaps, are "Humming," played by Orlando's Orchestra, and "Talestema," given by the Green Bros. Novelty Band. Keeping pace with these are "Bright Eyes," also performed by Orlando's organization, and "Broadway Rose," rendered by Harry Raderman's Jazz Orchestra. Raderman presents "Home Again Blues," too, and the Green Bros. show their genius for dance music in "Sleepy Hollow," a waltz of the dreamy sort.

The many fans for Max Fells' Della Robbia Orchestra will be glad to know that it has Re-Created "Rodeo," a fox trot which withstands repetition. "Caresses," another fox trot, is linked with "Rodeo" on the same Re-Creation, and is performed by Lezberg's Riverside Orchestra.

"Blues" songs are multiplied over night, it would seem, but "I've Got the Blues For My Kentucky Home," as sung by the Premier Quartet, is the kind that only comes once in a "blue moon." Rounding out these "Bits of Broadway" is a song sung by the entertaining Al Bernard, entitled "Timbreto," and it is funny enough to make a stone image crack a smile.

SPRING DRESS UP WEEK WILL BE MADE SPECTACULAR EVENT

The Spring Dress-Up Week, or Style

Show, to be observed by Portsmouth merchants March 15-19, held under the direction of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, promises to be the most beautiful, interesting and spectacular display of wearing apparel ever offered for the delight of the city. The official opening will be Tuesday evening, March 15, at 5:30 o'clock.

All merchants and retailers participating are urged and requested to veil or drape their windows Monday and Tuesday up until 5:30 Tuesday. The unveiling or undraping is to take place at 5:30 o'clock, when the factory whistles sound that hour.

No effort is being spared by the committee in charge to make it the biggest success of all such shows held by Portsmouth merchants. The Dress-Up Week or Style Show has been observed here the last few years and it is a time always looked forward to by those wishing a glimpse at the address styles for men and women.

Instead of three prizes this year, there will be five prizes, distributed as follows: First prize, $15; second prize, $10; third, fourth and fifth prizes, $5 each. By extending the prize list to five, more stores can enter and compete for the prize money. It is hoped to have every line of business represented and not only the larger retail dry goods or department stores.

The window decorators are already drawing their plans for the splendid displays they will have for their windows during this week.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms, or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menzies-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menzies-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Former U. S. Senator Paynter Dies At His Kentucky Home

FRANKFORT, Ky., Mar. 9.—Former United States Senator Thomas H. Paynter, 69 years of age, one of the most widely known lawyers in Kentucky, died at his home here yesterday after a long illness.

Thomas H. Paynter was born in Lewis county, Ky., later moving to Greenup after having studied law in the offices of E. B. Wilhoit at Grayson and being admitted to the bar.

He soon took prominence in the practice of his profession and was elected county attorney of Greenup county. He was then elected to congress in the Ninth Kentucky District, defeating Hurelbert, Republican, by a majority of less than 500. He served almost three terms in Congress and became one of the best liked representatives from Kentucky.

Mr. Paynter resigned his place in the Fifty-third congress to become Judge of the Court of Appeals. In 1906 he defeated Senator Joe Blackburn for the United States Senate and served until 1918 when he retired to his farm near Frankfort.

Thomas H. Paynter wedded a Miss Pollock of Greenup, daughter of the late Judge Pollock, and a sister of Edward Pollock, of the Greenup National Bank, and of Joseph Pollock, of the Rogers-Brown Iron company of Cincinnati. He is survived by the widow and a son.

Health the Keynote To Beauty

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love. Beauty implies good health.

Who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung, nervous age is continually overdoing, with the result that ill-peculiarities to her sex stop which, unchecked, will ruin all chances of her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been recognized as a standard remedy for women's ills, and has done much to relieve pain and restore good health to women—adv.

March Is A Good Month To Put Down Sausage For Later Use

Some of us recall the delight of the meal for which mother used to "open a can" of satisfying, country-killed, wholesome Pork Sausage.

The Village Store has this winter experimented on and succeeded in producing this good old food product as it used to be made and is still made in the country. Many of you have enjoyed this pure, young-pig sausage, fresh from the grinding, for months now; but has it ever occurred to you that you may have it through the coming season as well?

Pork Sausage put down the old-fashioned way in pure land is a summer's meat treat that's hard to duplicate. Quite a number of folks are already preparing their sausage for future use. Just this week one prominent Portsmouth woman ordered 20 pounds to put away in this manner.

TO ORDER 10 OR 15 POUNDS SAUSAGE YOU SHOULD CALL US THE DAY BEFORE.

For the above purpose we are offering still this week OUR OWN PURE, OPEN KETTLE RENDERED, COUNTRY LARD. Without tallow or other adulteration . . . . . 19c

Dear Miss Wise—Kindly publish in your column what states in the union permit consuls to marry. J. H. D., Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, Washington, and the District of Columbia.

Dear Miss Wise—Dear Dolly, I am a young girl and I am large for my age. I am fifteen years old and I have been going with a young fellow who is very nice to me and I like him very much. There is a girl who tries to take him away from me but he says he doesn't like her. She and me have been good friends and I would like for you to give me your advice. Do you think I am too young to go with the boys?

I would have sent you a personal reply to all three letters but you failed to enclose a stamp. I think you are entirely too young to have boy callers, especially when you favor one. It is alright for one to have several friends but by oh means should you treat the matter seriously. Your school work should keep you too busy to think of boys in that manner.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise—Dear Dolly—I am a young man and very good looking, as most people think except one fault and that is my crooked nose and I wish very much you would tell me something to straighten it. L. S.

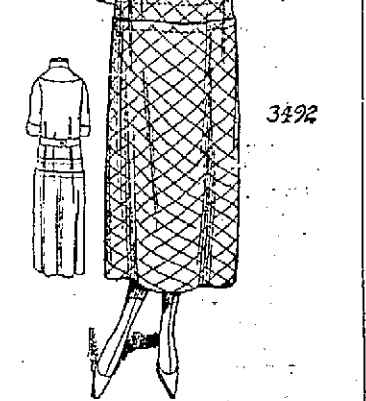

If you are grown, there is nothing that you can do to straighten your nose. It might have been done while you were growing, but an afraid it is too late now, unless you have an operation.

Dear Miss Wise—Please print this at once for me. Will the fellow who answered "Many Thanks" and ask for her to call up or write to him that he had very interesting and good news for both of us, for him to please do this calling up or writing at once as she is very interested in him and what he says but it being impossible for her to write or phone and she hopes that he will do so at once. If he writes to me I will answer him at once. I hope he sees these few lines and does not stop for anything and not to be afraid. I surely will appreciate an answer from him as he is for me so please take steps at once as he certainly is a dear friend to me and I hope I am and will always be to him. MANY THANKS.

Dear Miss Wise—I am coming to you for some advice. I have been going with a boy. He went away from here and I hear he has married. But he has not written and told me. He keeps writing to me asking me to send his letters until I got his last letter he ask me for a ring and watch which he gave me. Now Dolly, he and I were engaged to be married. So I accepted the ring as a friendship ring and at Xmas he gave me a watch. Now Dolly in his letters he says he will never forget me. I really love him and my heart is broken because he has treated me this way. Would you write and ask him if he is married if you were me?

PEGGIE.
If he requests the return of the gifts, you should do so, regardless of whether or not he is married. If you regard him just as a friend there may be no harm in asking him if the news of his marriage is true. Whatever the case is, it will be better for you to let him alone, for your writing to him might cause trouble.

Dear Miss Wise—For several months I have been attending a dance regularly and have met some young men whom I like very much. I like one of them more than the others. He has brought me home several times, and I have grown to care a great deal for him. I think he likes me too. My parents have stopped me from going to these dances and I never see him anymore. What would you advise me to do?

HEART-BROKEN.
Forget him: He does not care for you or he would find a way to see you.

SOCIETY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Katherine Beatrice Smith and Richard Carroll Taylor, which took place on New Year's Day in Covington, Ky. The marriage was successfully kept a secret until Tuesday, when the bride couple left for Portsmouth, Va., where they will remain for an extended stay of several months.

The bride is an unusually attractive young woman of charming attributes and until lately has been one of the clerks at the N. & W. office.

Mr. Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Third street.

He possesses unusual artistic ability in painting, having studied at the Cincinnati Art Academy and under Mr. Ernie Haswell, the eminent sculptor of that city. Before leaving Cincinnati Mr. Taylor held a responsible position with the Rockwood Pottery Plant.

Misses Gertrude and Mary Gerkens of Waller street were hostesses at a delightfully informal affair last evening, honoring Miss Marcella McAfee, fiancée of their brother, Frederick Gerkens. The guests were occupied with listening to the bride-elect and playing cards during the evening, amid much merry chatter. Later the hostesses served a delectable repast to the following friends: Mrs. Jack Dalton, Mrs. Charles McAfee, Misses Margaret Frantz, Dorothy Butler, Ames Cassidy, Thillie Schroeder, Josephine Doerr, Gertrude Montavon, Marjorie McMaisters, Catherine Cassidy, Bess Kilmore, Mae Blood, Eleanor Montavon, Mabel Kennedy, Doll Blair, Sadie Turner, Catherine Miller, Carrie Keras, Mae Stewart, Margaret Kilmore, the honor-guest and the hostesses.

For the "Style Fete" at the Fashion this evening, the latest modes in ladies' and misses' wearing apparel will be displayed by a number of local going women who will act as models. They will walk through the shop and into the window, where they may be seen from the street, and will show Dame Fashion's choicest in frocks for every occasion, suits and cloaks.

The regular meeting of the Home League will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Patton, 1809 Hutchins street.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Fitch (Mary Sprocher) who are residents of Baltimore, while the former is finishing his course at Johns-Hopkins College, were among those who went to Washington to attend the inaugural ceremonies last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph Williams of Second street are spending a few days with their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oakes, of Haverhill.

Mr. Sick Jones and sister, Mrs. Sarah Proctor, of South Portsmouth, have gone to Cincinnati, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Nora Jones, the late wife of their brother, Mr. Amos Jones.

The children's choir of All Saints church will meet for practice at four o'clock Thursday afternoon in the chapel.

Mrs. Nathan B. Crabtree has returned to her home in Stamford, Ill., after a visit with her sister and brother, Mrs. Earl Clare, of Scioto Trail, and W. P. Altman of Lincoln street, having come here with the body of her late father, Alex Altman, who passed away at her home.

Dorothy Dalton's Beauty Chat

Miss Dorothy Dalton, the actress famous the world over for her beautiful complexion says: "Any girl or woman can have a beautiful, rosy-white complexion and smooth unlined skin like mine if they will follow my advice and use Derwillo, a simple toilet preparation. I use it because it imparts instant beauty, is easy to apply, absolutely harmless and has a marvelous effect upon the skin. One application proves it." Be sure to read Miss Dalton's interesting story of how to quickly acquire a beautiful complexion, soon to appear in this paper. In the meantime get Derwillo at any toilet counter and try it today; you will be delightfully surprised.

Your Manners

It Is Correct
To pay a social call on a business woman on Sunday.

For business women to issue at home cards for one Sunday in the month.

For women living in an apartment and who have no servants, to put a "not at home" card over the name card at the door when they wish to be undisturbed during the afternoon.

For a woman living in an apartment where callers are announced to give orders on her day at home to have them admitted without announcement.

For an unmarried woman living in an apartment to entertain gentlemen callers if she wishes.

It Is Not Correct
For gentlemen calling on unmarried ladies at the apartments to stay later than ten-thirty.

For an unmarried woman living in an apartment to allow gentlemen to come up to her apartment after the theatre or late in the evening.

For a caller to ring the bell of an apartment where there is a "not at home" card on the door.

When calling in the evening on a friend who lives in an apartment, to make any unnecessary noise in the halls.

To sing or play a musical instrument after ten o'clock at night when visiting a friend who lives in an apartment.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

Mrs. C. G. Petrie has returned to her home in Jasper after a visit with her niece, Mrs. Edie M. Walker, of Fifth street.

C. F. Geisler of Washington, D. C., and L. E. Bingle of Pittsburgh, salesmen for the Excelsior Shoe Company, are spending a few days here.

Mrs. Alice Clough of 1210 Third street has returned home from an extended visit with relatives in Belpré, Parkersburg, Athens and Columbus.

Mrs. J. H. Varner and son, James, of Timmonds avenue, and daughter, Mrs. Andrew Glass, of Wheeling, are spending a few days in Cincinnati.

"Violet," said Mr. West to his daughter when they returned to the house after the storm, "do you know you are so fond of the country and animals that you should have been a farmer. I know a great many people who would think I was crazy to allow a little girl to get out of her warm bed and go out in a night like this to see that her pets were all right. Most fathers would have said, 'No, little daughter, you can't go out in such a night as this. You remain in bed and I will see that your pets are properly cared for."

"Oh, papa! You are such a darling. And I know you could not be so cruel as not to let me go with you and I am glad you are not one of those stiff papas who don't know any more about what a little girl likes than if they were wooden papas, and I love you! I love you! And here is a kiss for you," and she turned his face around and gave him a big, smacking kiss right in the middle of his mouth. She could easily do this, as she was sitting on his back, "pig-a-back," as she called it, with her arms clasped tightly under his chin and her legs thrust under his arms. He often carried her in this way for long distances and when they went on their tramps through the woods and she overdid her strength in her ambition to walk just as far as her papa.

Her father would put a couple of sandwiches or a piece of bread and

HOMESICK

Gwendolyn had found the nights when they had deeper jumps most trying of all. There had been times when she had had to share a berth with some other member of the company, and consequently neither she nor the girl had been able to get any sleep. And worn and weary, come what may, they had to dance and sparkle the next night. Sometimes she wondered how any dancer ever lasted more than a year at the most. The life was so uncompromisingly hard. It seemed to sap the joy of living from one's veins, no matter how ardent one might be.

Two of the company dropped out after the second month. Simply failed to show up at the train one morning and were never heard from again. They had evidently decided that the easiest way out was to drop out and no questions asked.

Gwendolyn felt homesick for her studio very often, and wondered just how the old hunch back in New York was getting along. The first spring days under her long more than ever for her corner of Washington Park and for the sight of Fifth avenue in all the glory of its Easter attire.

She wrote long letters now and then to John Neale and received interesting ones in reply, but he never became very intimate in any of them, and she missed hearing the real news from him, and even the sound of his ringing voice. From Fern she heard but twice after leaving New York, even though she wrote often to her, and beseeched for answers. In reply, it was as though her cousin had passed out of her life.

The Emanon Club will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Peel, 2010 Seventeenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillen, who have been residing in the Baycel Apartments, are now settled in the cottage at 1139 Eighth street, recently vacated by the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Buck, who have moved to Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Butler of Columbus will arrive here tomorrow for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Poffenberger of Waller street.

Complimentary to Miss Bertin Friedman of Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. A. Kline of Third street received a congenial number of young people last evening for cards and dancing. At midnight a green and white 75c course, corresponding with the colors of the attractive decorations, was served to Misses Ruth Atlas, Judith Quassner, Norma Mayer, Gertrude Winkle, Elizabeth Glick, the honor-guest, and Messrs. Joseph and Leo Horchow, William Atlas, Louis Glick and Milton Lehman.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Old Town M. E. church on the West Side will meet Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Andrew Smith of Nureco.

Miss Anna Ball's class of girls of Bigelow Sunday school will have a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ruhlman, 1735 Franklin avenue, with little Miss Pauline Ruhlman as hostess.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Don't Forget the Sale of Silk Dresses Tomorrow

As announced in yesterday's paper our sale of one hundred fine silk dresses at $14.95, $21.75 and $29.50 will begin Thursday morning.

These dresses have been on display in our window for two days and have found favor with hundreds of women who have viewed them and marveled at their beauty and lowness of price.

With Easter so close at hand, this dress event becomes doubly valuable. As stated before, these dresses are of splendid materials, good workmanship, and made after the latest models.

This is the best dress sale of the season.

Numerous models to choose from, beginning tomorrow at only $14.95, $21.75 and $29.50.

Hand-Made Blouses at $3.98

As a companion special to the silk dresses tomorrow, we place on sale a big special lot of hand-made, white batiste blouses that have just arrived. These are of splendid materials, elegantly fashioned, and come in either high or low neck styles.

Choice of the entire lot beginning tomorrow at $3.98.

Prohibition Commissioner Appoints His Aides

COLUMBUS, O., March 9.—State Prohibition Commissioner Don V. Parker today announced the appointment of the assistant commissioner, chief clerk and six of the ten prohibition inspectors to be appointed. The appointees are: R. J. Pennell, Marion, assistant commissioner; George L. Jamond Fremont, clerk; Charles O. Burke, Newark; W. L. Jones, Kingston; H. B. Thomas, Sandusky; S. W. Rampton, Navarre, and Clark Thompson, Van Wert, inspectors. Miss Veda Miller, Columbus, was appointed stenographer.

Commissioner Parker said the inspectors would be assigned at once to various parts of the state to make investigations quietly and that no report of their investigations would be made until it was filed with the governor. Attention will be given to all complaints of non-enforcement of the laws.

The commissioner in a statement again called attention to the broad powers given the governor under the Miller bill to remove local officials from office for failure to perform their duties.

Bible Classes In Contest; Nelsonville Wins First Tilt

Wow; Biff; Zam! Ouch! Bingo! And the small "feller" won! Last Sunday was the first round in the contest between the Berean Men's Bible Class of Nelsonville, O., and The Loyal Men's Bible class of the First Christian church of this city and would you believe it, Nelsonville won the first round by a margin of four men. The contest is based on attendance and will last until the last Sunday in May and is creating a lot of interest in the two classes.

Last Sunday the Loyal Men of the First church felt confident that they were in the lead and very anxiously waited to hear how many they had put it over on Nelsonville when they had 150 men present but today when the report came from Nelsonville that the little upstate town had rounded up 154 men for the Berean class it caused some of the workers of the class to sit up and take notice.

Now for the second round on next Sunday. The small lead which the Berean class has over the Loyal Men will make it worth while hustling and you can gamble that the men will be doing some hard work during the week.

The Loyal Men's class has been steadily growing since the first of the year when it was reorganized with a new corps of officers and another ten Sundays of the year of 984. It would seem that the First church has the advantage. However, there are a greater number of class organizations in the First Christian church and the contest is between the two men's classes only.

Future of Panama.

Panama changed the trade route from the Atlantic to the Pacific, did away with the long course through the Straits of Magellan and the menace of Cape Horn. Now one of the largest coaling ports on the whole Pacific is at the Panama end of the canal, and in the future the flaring old town of Panama, looted long ago by the pirates under Morgan, may outstrip Port Said as the largest in the world.—George Harding in Harper's Magazine.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Business Is Good

Our January and February business was good. In fact, it practically equaled our best January and February in the last four years.

Ford prices are low—the big price reductions have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum factory production and increases may be necessary if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible INCREASES.

On account of recent curtailment in production we anticipate a shortage of Ford cars in a few weeks. This shortage has already developed in certain models. So if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford—BUY NOW. Satisfactory terms can be arranged.

Little Interest In Hearing On Reorganization Plan

COLUMBUS, O., March 9.—The reorganization committee was to take up this morning the proposed department of commerce, in which it is proposed to merge the department of banks, building and loan associations, fire marshal, department of insurance and department of securities under one head.

Little interest was shown in the first hearing before the committee last night on the department industrial relations, affecting the industrial commission and the workmen's compensation fund. The only persons to speak were representatives of the better inspection department who objected to the destruction of the boiler code, which they declared had been established after a study made by the best engineers of the country and had been copied in 25 states in the union.

Secretary Thomas Donnelly, representing the state federation of labor, and Malcolm Jennings, secretary of the manufacturers' association, said they had not yet been able to secure a copy of the proposed reorganization bill and asked for opportunity to present their arguments on the bill later.

The code would establish a director of industrial relations who would take over all the administrative duties of the present industrial commission, leaving the industrial commission without administrative powers and subject to a director of industrial relations appointed directly by the governor.

A hearing is scheduled for tonight on the department of public welfare, which would take over all the duties now performed by the board of administration, the board of state charities and other welfare organizations.

Should There Be Bath Tubs In All New Houses?

Should there be bath tubs in all new houses, should Portsmouth allow the building of alley houses, should there be certain specified distances between all houses, are the three paramount questions to be discussed pro and con tonight (Thursday) evening at the Chamber of Commerce forum meeting to be held at six o'clock in the basement of the U. B. church.

The city has a building code and it is being asked to make amendments and strike out certain provisions. The advantage and disadvantage of having these provisions and proposed additions to the code will be discussed freely tomorrow evening. City Council, real estate dealers, contractors and builders have been invited to attend. All home owners and renters should attend as the question is one of importance and one that should interest any person who has the future of Portsmouth at heart.

The expressions coming from the public at this meeting will no doubt guide council in its decision on the changing of the building code.

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrible itching and burning of flery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and others local remedies, applied to the surface of the skin. Such form of treatment, however, can make no progress whatever toward ridding you of the discomfort which often becomes a real torture.

But if you desire to free yourself from any form of skin disease, first of all you must realize that any disease must be treated at its source.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritation cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S. S. S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and rids the system of the germs which cause the trouble.

S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address S21 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

Tax Committee Recommends Abrogation Of Uniform Rule; Favors Income Tax Measure

COLUMBUS, O., March 9.—With a declaration that "our present tax laws are deservedly held in contempt," Governor Davis' citizens' taxation committee has recommended the adoption of a constitutional amendment thereby opening the way for classification of property, and limiting the tax rate to 15 mills in corporations and 12 mills in rural districts. The proposed amendment also compels the adoption of income and inheritance tax laws. An inheritance tax law already is in effect. The committee also endorsed the debt limitation proposal.

With the report of this committee, the various taxation programs are practically completed and the battle lines between the uniform rule advocates and those accepting classification are well defined. The program of the proponents of strict enforcement of the uniform rule, led by Representative Chester, of Paulding county, contemplates penalties for tax dodgers; defines credits so as to bring intangibles into the duplicate; reduces levies in proportion to increases in intangibles; an income tax, and authorizes county auditors to make tax payers verify their returns before a court of record.

Both taxation programs are expected to be placed in completed forms before the legislature today with the introduction of the amendment proposed by the governor's committee and the introduction of uniform rule advocates' proposed law giving auditors the right to bring tax payers before the courts. Amendments and bills

Those Children Of Yours

If your children follow your footsteps, will they be better men and women than you are? Will the next generation be an improvement?

And make no mistake; if Dad doesn't DO it, no amount of talking or application of the hair brush will induce John to do it when he is not immediately under the paternal eye.

It is for this reason that many men go to church. They want their children to get the advantages of character building which follows regular church attendance.

Are your children following you to Sunday school, to church, to prayer meeting? Will they remember you best on Sunday in the pew with them, drawing pictures, perchance to keep brother quiet; or on the recreational field, or in the office? You are the artist who paints these memory pictures for your children.

No one is quicker to detect a false note in life than a child. If you are not living up to your Christian vows, your son may never mention the lapse, but you are not fooling him—nor are you deceiving God!

Why not decide now to attend the church of your choice next Sunday. Go with your family. Attend the nearest one of the denomination with which you think you will be most at home.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York: Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic elements. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system, slowly affects the nerves, membrane of the lungs and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of vitality, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read about one full page from a book. If, in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected with catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a

German Envoys Recalled

No Disorders in Occupied Towns

DUESSELDORF, March 9.—Although 7,000 French, British and Belgian soldiers were today occupying Dusseldorf, Dusseldorf and Muhlthorff, the people of those cities were proceeding about their usual affairs in apparent utter indifference to the presence of the allied forces.

There were no signs today of any immediate labor movement by German workmen as an outcome of the occupation, the effort of agitators to bring on the long threatened general strike, in protest against the imposition of the allied penalties having failed. This refusal of the workmen to strike, at least for the time being, is attributed by the leaders to the poverty of the men which would not admit of their resistance without their daily wage.

However, the temper of the laborers in the Essen district is reported such that it is feared the agitation may develop a menacing situation there. Allied troops to the number of 2,000 with four tanks and three river flotillas are stationed here, but the military are not in evidence except that double sentries were at the street corners, with machine guns.

Good News For Fans

John T. Smith, N. & W. passenger agent, stated Wednesday that the baseball excursion rates to Cincinnati this season would not be increased over last year, the fare to remain at $2.50 the round trip.

USE IODINE FOR SKIN IRRITATIONS

Pimples and Blemishes Vanish

If people would only have Iodine in the home at all time for a family remedy they would find in the bud many serious afflictions and always have an antiseptic and healing remedy for every day accidents and ailments, says a woman who speaks after many years' experience in raising a large family. "Take Iodine for instance," she says, "we used to call it St. Anthony's fire when I was young. The red, irritated swollen skin, the itching and burning are madeleaving, and Iodine is the remedy."

Physicians are practically unanimous in recommending Iodine. They prefer it in its best form—Lanated Iodine Compound—which is soothing, healing and powerful, yet never irritates or blisters, and is practically stainless. It is quickly absorbed into the tissues and glands, usually giving prompt relief. J. A. Hager and Fisher and Streich have this agreeable Iodine compound and should recommend it as it gives unusual satisfaction. Be sure to get Lanated Iodine for best results. —Adv.

FEELS FINE IN MORNINGS SAYS FINK

"At the time I decided to try Tanlac I had been in bad shape for two or three months," said C. J. Fink, 301 East Exchange, Akron, machinist for Starr Drill and Machine Co.

"Nothing tasted right to me and I actually got so even the sight of food was distasteful to me. What little I ate disagreed with me so that I could hardly breathe at times. I also suffered from constipation. I was losing weight and beginning to feel weak in the knees."

"A friend told me Tanlac kept him going and built him up till he felt like a new man, so I tried it, and it did for me just what he said it would. He did me a good turn I'll never forget. Tanlac soon had me eating like a wolf and feeling like I got up in the morning now feeling full of energy and ready for work, which is certainly a big change from the fagged-out, all-gone feeling I used to have. Tanlac did for me just what I wanted. I needed a building up and it did that for me, and more, too. It's the only medicine I know that does the work."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town. —Adv.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, flatulence, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try having aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. —Adv.

Paying for the Home
"Up to two years ago my money all went to doctors and medicine for my stomach trouble. I was constantly filled with gas and no medicine helped me permanently until I tried a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy at that time with excellent results. Now I am using my money in paying for a home." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convulse or money refunded. Flood and Blake, Fishers and Sterich and druggists everywhere. —adv.

Relative to the report that the governor may come here to investigate before making the appointment, neither of the two leading candidates, Attorneys W. R. Sprague nor Mark Crawford, place little credence in the story, both saying that it was hardly probable that a busy man as the chief executive could afford to take the time to come here to hold a hearing on the matter.

Joseph Hatfield of Washington street has recovered from an attack of chickenpox.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. —adv.

SPLENDID BANQUET TENDERED JUDGES OF COURT OF APPEALS BY BAR ASSOCIATION

The Judges of the Court of Appeals were the honored guests at a banquet tendered them by the Scioto County Bar Association Tuesday evening and the event was a most enjoyable affair. The dinner was given at the Elks Club, starting at 6:30 o'clock and for more than five hours those surrounding the banquet board heard interesting talks by a number of those present.

Judge James S. Thomas presided in the role as toastmaster and he brought rounds of smiles by the humorous manner in which he introduced the speakers. The menu itself was all that could be desired and the elaborate spread was words of commendation for the Elks Club management. Good fellowship prevailed on every hand and this combined to create a festive spirit among the diners.

The invited guests were Judges Edwin D. Sayre, Athens; William H. Middleton, Waverly; and Roscoe J. Munk, Gallipolis, of the Court of Appeals and Judge Will P. Stephenson of West Union, all of whom responded to calls and made short talks and joined in expressing thanks for the hospitality extended the kindly feeling manifested and the spirit which prompted the occasion. The program of learning the occasion. The program of learning the occasion. The program of learning the occasion.

Judge Thomas on being introduced as toastmaster thanked the committee for the honor and then said that it has been the custom of the Bar Association to give a banquet which would be a good thing. He said that it was a good thing to have a banquet which would be a good thing. He said that it was a good thing to have a banquet which would be a good thing.

ROW IS CARRIED TO MUNICIPAL COURT

A row which grew out of a dispute over the manner of cleaning a vault explained the presence of Vint Enyart and B. L. Schmidt in Municipal court Wednesday to meet charges of disorderly conduct.

The complaints were filed by Plumbing Inspector William Vest and the hearing resulted in Acting Judge Johnson ordering Schmidt to pay the costs and dismissed Enyart.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—The stock market was extremely apathetic at the opening of today's session with an irregularly lower trend of prices. Selling pressure again focused on shipping, food and copper shares. United Fruit, which lost 1 1/2 points and Atlantic Gulf and Fuel Oil, which lost 1 point, were the most active. American Sugar, which had been in the lead, fell 1 point. The closing was heavy.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Mar. 9.—Fresh setbacks in the price of wheat resulted today from the government report showing much larger reserves than had been looked for. Opening quotations, which ranged from 2c to 3 1/2c lower, with March at 1.33 to 1.63 1/2 and May 1.53 1/2 to 1.83 1/2, were followed by a moderate rally from initial bottom figures.

Corn took the same course as wheat. After opening, 5c to 1 1/4c lower including May at 60 1/2 to 60 3/4, the market recovered a little.

The close was nervous 1/2c to 3/4c net higher with May 7 1/4 to 7 1/2, March at 1.33 to 1.63 1/2 and May 1.53 1/2 to 1.83 1/2.

Despite higher quotations on hog provisions reflected the decline in the price of grain.

The close was unsettled 1/2c to 2c net higher with March 1.67 1/2 to 1.68 and May 1.59 1/2 to 1.60.

LARGE RAILROADS PLANNING WAGE CUT

CHICAGO, Mar. 9.—Information received at local headquarters of the railway labor department of the American Federation of Labor indicates that virtually every large railroad in the country is preparing to put wage reductions in effect. B. M. Jewell, chairman of the committee, said in discussing the proposed reduction announced by the Pennsylvania lines.

An official of the Association of Western Railway Executives, who declined to be quoted, said that Mr. Jewell's statement "probably was true" and that further wage reductions announcements might be expected at any time.

Obituary
Dorothy Lucille Mumper
The angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mumper, 1810 High street, Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock and claimed their baby daughter, Dorothy Lucille, aged three and a half months. The child had been ill a week with poisoning coming from an infection of the right cheek.

Mr. and Mrs. Mumper have the sympathy of their many friends in their sudden bereavement. The parents are grief-stricken over the death of their infant child.

Surviving are the parents, F. W. and Hazel Mumper, two sisters, Emily and Ruth, and a brother, Stanley.

Alva Squires
An illness of tuberculosis, which had him bedfast for seventeen weeks, came to an end Tuesday night at 10 30 o'clock, when the final summons came to Alva Squires, son of James and Polly Squires, at his home, 1301 Hutchins avenue. The young man was taken ill last April and since that time had been unable to work. Prior to his illness he was employed at a local shoe factory.

Alva Squires was born in Scioto county and most of his life was spent in this city. He was born November 28, 1893. The deceased was well known in the city and news of his death will come as a shock to his many friends and acquaintances.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Squires, two brothers, Charles Squires of 1912 Robinson avenue and Alford Squires, who is with the U. S. Army in the Philippines, and a sister, Elsie Squires, at home.

Mrs. Nancy Hatfield
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parley of Gallatin street, Tenn., Mrs. Victor Elliot of Gallatin street, and Mrs. G. B. Hogan of Union avenue, have returned from Malvern, Ky., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Parley's stepmother, the late Mrs. Nancy Hatfield, who passed away March 6, 1921, at the age of 81 years. She was the faithful and devoted wife of Joseph Hatfield, who with two sons, W. A. Roe of Pomeroy, and James E. Hurley, of N. Y., and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Mary Justice of Cord, Ky., survive.

Mrs. Hatfield was a member of the Methodist church for forty-five years and will be greatly missed by a host of friends and relatives.

Funeral of Mrs. Nagel
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Nagel, who passed away Sunday noon at her home, 213 Waller street, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Second Presbyterian church at 2 30 o'clock, with Rev. George P. Horst in charge of the last rites. The pallbearers were George Heinisch, Adam Duveneck, Frank Miller, Herman Pick, Alexander Littlejohn and Charles Zull, all friends of the deceased. Burial was in Greenlawn.

Mrs. Hattie Brown Bandy
The body of Mrs. Hattie Brown Bandy, wife of Cecil Bandy, who passed away at her home in Springfield, O., arrived at Wheelersburg Wednesday noon and was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schneider, brother-in-law and sister of the deceased. Mrs. Bandy, who was well known in this city leaves many relatives and friends besides her husband and two children. The funeral services will be conducted from the Wheelersburg M. E. church at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Nora Jones
Mrs. Sarah Proctor and brother, Sirk Jones, of South Portsmouth, have gone to Cincinnati to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Nora Jones, who passed away Sunday night. Mrs. Jones is survived by her husband, Amos Jones and three children: Juanita, aged 14; Emil, aged 7, and a six-day old baby daughter.

Funeral This Afternoon
Rev. P. C. Wolf of Manly church was in charge of the funeral services for Vernon Madison Monroe, held from the home at two o'clock this afternoon. Convulsions caused the death of this three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moore at the home, 1805 Alton avenue, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dials Funeral
Funeral services for Mrs. Madge Dials, wife of Farish T. Dials, Malverton, who passed away Monday afternoon, will be held from the home tonight at seven o'clock. Thursday morning the body will be taken to near Stockdale for burial.

Corra Maximo Bantz
After a two months' illness of whooping cough which later developed into pneumonia, death Tuesday night at ten o'clock claimed Cora Maximo Bantz, 1824 Oakland avenue.

The parents are grief-stricken over the loss of their baby born Sept. 21, 1920. Besides the parents, a sister, Myrtle Louisa, aged 6, and two brothers, Paul aged 3, and Prentiss Lee aged 8, survive.

The funeral services will be held from the home on Oakland avenue at ten o'clock Thursday morning with Rev. H. Stewart Tills of the First Baptist church in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief
There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear. Zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing.

In his denouement.

That's "The Forbidden Thing." Cross currents of human passion over playing at cross purposes. The spiritual arrayed against the physical in the race for love. The wiles of a physical woman fighting for the soul of a man—and on the other hand the sweet, refining influence of another woman battling for the same possession. Who will win? "The Forbidden Thing" is a story that ripples with amusement at times and at other times bubbles with human emotions. Also, in it tragedy stalks rampant—and then comes love and happiness and contentment. Somewhere, somehow, its characters are confronted with "the forbidden thing" and somewhere, somehow, the romance is met and defeated.

The lithic, sensuous, dark-eyed Portuguese maiden weaves her spell about the staidest descendant of the Pilgrim fathers—and causes wreck and ruin to follow in her wake. Romance flies before her and tragedy stalks behind her. She, the physical attraction, reigns for a day—reigns through an awful day—and then comes the light. It is the light of a better day—the light of other eyes—the light of former years returned. Into this light also shines the joy and happiness of spiritual reawakening—and out of the depths the giant man rises again. James Kirkwood plays the part of Abel Blake, descendant of the Pilgrim Fathers.

Miss Glaum's sweetheart, to South America to find a fortune. True love—for her sister—takes the star into a devious path which will bring ease, joy and success from pain to the little sister, but to obtain which Miss Glaum makes a woman's sacrifice.

But the theme of "Love" is staunch and new to the line.

Remember the line in our poetry book at school? "And stony limits cannot keep love out."

So it is that the love of Natalie (Miss Glaum) and Tom (James Kirkwood) endures despite Natalie's transgression and we have a logical happy ending which caps the dramatic climax of introducing the faithful Tom to his sweetheart as the amorous of another man.

The production deserves the highest praise for its moral toning and the big lesson it holds. The "song of love" in this case is not a sentimental ditty, but a very real melody of the soul. The management of the Eastland Theatre wishes to especially call the attention of its women patrons to this picture as it has an unusual appeal to women.

Cleaners vs. Spiders, March 9.
Rolling against a 7-5 "blind" team, the Wizards easily trimmed the Wonders in three straight games in the Play House alleys, 2000 to 1851.
The victories pushed the Wizards to within eight points of the league leading Cleaners.

SPECIALS HAVE WON 29 IN A ROW

Coming back fast in the second half, the Higlow Specials won a 23 to 10 victory from the Portsmouth College of Business. The Specials still remain undefeated this season, having won 29 straight games, which is a splendid record.

The Specials started their subs in the game and the Business College took the lead, the first half ending 13 to 7 in favor of the College. The Specials took their regular positions in the second half and when the scoring machine started there was no stopping until they had piled up a safe lead over their rivals.

Daxley at guard threw seven fouts while his running mate, Flowers, put up a good game at guard. Foster, a new man at center for the winners, played a fine game, getting the jump off on his lengthy opponent practically every time. Foster also made six points for his team. The Specials play a fine defensive game that is hard to break through. The defense of the Business College team was not hard to solve the forwards of the Specials, getting through time after time for scores.

The Specials would like to hear from any junior team in the city or county. Phone 60 and ask for Gordley for games with this fast traveling fire.

Arrangements are being made to have the Specials play a preliminary game to the Selects-Oriole game.

The Allies lost three straight to the Excelsors last night, but they lost with honor as the scores show, the first game being 21 to 16, and the second going to 20-20 before the Excelsors won the winning tally. The third game was 21-4. The feature of the game was the serving of Irvin Ross. He has developed a little little serve that is as sure to land as the income tax, and almost as hard to meet. Chris Heer served almost as well, and in addition proved to be the best ball killer on the Allies side of the net. Hardin was in fine form and played the best game for the Excelsors.

The lineups were:

Excelsors—Earl Rardin, Capt. Brooks Gowdy, Ray Praxler, Irvin Ross, Joe Barber and R. Eghert.

Allies—Albert Ternes, Captain. Paul Heind, A. H. Jordan, Chris Heer, H. Arburg and Rex Oakley.

Meanwhile the Wholesalers were defeating the Bear Cats in three straight games at the High School by the scores of 21-17, 21-7, and 21-1. The Bears had only four men present, and after the Wholesalers began lapping the ball to the vacant corners it was all over, even the shouting. Earl Selby's smiling face appeared again on court after his long absence and he was heartily welcomed back.

The lineups were:

Wholesalers—C. M. Howland, Capt. Orla Ricker, S. L. Means, Guy Edwards, Earl Reinhard and Geo. Cornette.

Bearcats—Earl Selby, Cap. O. D. Donaldson, P. E. Selby and Bill Harris. The Wolves-Bearcats game scheduled for Friday, March 11, has been postponed to Tuesday, March 15. The Standard Supply-Allies game has been scheduled to play at Wilhelmette Hall on Friday March 11, thus filling the vacant date.

Gardner Absent

CLEVELAND, O., March 9.—Larry Gardner, veteran third baseman, was the only absentee when the champion Cleveland Indians donned their uniforms at the spring training camp today, according to advisers received from Dallas. Phil Wambagans, the second baseman, worked out with his team mates today for the first time. In practice yesterday Joe Wood hit the ball far over the left field fence.

Foul Tips From Training Camps

NEW YORK, March 9.—Versatile "Duke" Ruth, the New York American's stellar baseball player, trained "considerable" yesterday at the Yankees' spring camp in Starveport, Ia. It was reported here today.

During the rookie practice in the forenoon he qualified as a side-line comedian, then spent an hour coaching left-handed pitchers. In the afternoon he played first base, pitched a while, worked in center field, then went to bat, getting one home run and two singles. He brought the day to a close by relieving the bat boy of his burden.

Dave Bancroft, New York National's shortstop, who was reported ill, entered the practice game yesterday at the Glants' camp in San Antonio.

The Brooklyn Nationals, training at left-handed pitchers, were prevented by rain from playing their first practice game yesterday.

Brennan Will Be In Fine Fettle

Joe Brennan sends word from Columbus that he will be in line for his eight round go here next Monday night with Bill Fortner. He is training hard and says he will be out to win by a safe margin.

Fortner will have something to say about this as he is also, in training and will be there when the bell taps.

Both boys are hard hitters and clever boxers and fight fans here are eagerly anticipating their next encounter, which should be a sizzler.

EPIDEMIC OF ENFORCEMENT

REPORTS from many cities throughout the United States are that the police authorities are engaged in a crusade against criminals and organized vice, with particular attention to the violators of the national prohibition amendment. No doubt these activities against violators of the laws are needed and the zeal shown by the law-enforcement officials is altogether commendable, but one is led to wonder why conditions should be permitted to reach their present degree of undesirability. There is the example of the person who would exercise for the improvement of his health. One hour a week in the gymnasium or walking on the highways will not secure the results desired, no matter how enthusiastically undertaken. It is the regular, persistent effort that counts.

The same rule applies to enforcement of the law against such violations as are daily occurrences, selling liquor, gambling and other vices carried on for profit. These violations could better be prevented by strict surveillance than by spasmodic efforts at reform. Nobody expects the authorities to prevent all violations or arrest all persons who do criminal acts. It should be possible for police to know their city so well that they need no crusade to drive out persons who are violators of the laws.

TAXES COMING AND GOING

CONCERNS individuals who made payment of federal taxes on the installment plan this year will find that the business of contributing to the support of the government is lapsing over in a not very pleasant way. The last payment of taxes for the year 1919 were due on December 15, and treasury officials expect that all payments be made on or before that date. Blanks for making returns of incomes and profits during 1920 were available January 1.

In spite of the taxing machinery which has been in operation for several years, the government agents are forced to admit that many thousands of persons have been able to evade their financial obligations to the government, notwithstanding the penalties provided for delinquency. The rate on normal incomes for 1920 will be the same as last year—four per cent on the first $4,000 above exemption, which is $2,000 in the case of married persons and $1,000 for those unmarried. It is expected that there will be a considerable shrinkage in receipts from incomes and profits in 1920, especially as the last half of the year has witnessed a marked reduction in earnings of industrial workers, and a consequent decrease in the earnings of employers.

Ideal conditions from the taxation standpoint would be near if each person could be required to pay his share toward the support of the government through income taxes. It takes money only from those persons who are most able to spare it, after a reasonable sum has been allowed for maintenance. Honest folk will make honest reports, and the other kind should be compelled to do so.

Biscuits And Bargains

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—Whether soggy biscuits, unbalanced dinners, and bad bargains can be legislated out of existence is a question which the last Congress smiled and frowned over, and finally passed to its successor. The committee that investigated the need for federal assistance to train housewives was readily convinced of the worthiness of the cause. But the bill providing a government fund for home economics courses got pushed aside in the final rush of imperatively important legislation.

The bill is not lost, however. It is sure to come up in the next Congress; possibly at the extra session which is expected in April. It is not an expensive measure as expenditures go in Congress, but it is a bill of far-reaching importance and one that offers an opportunity to every state and it is being urged by a dozen big national women's organizations and any number of state organizations.

The foundation for the home economics bill is the old story—or several of them: Twenty-six million of the 50,000,000 women and girls in the United States keep house, and as homemakers these 26,000,000 women constitute the largest class of workers in the country. It is further estimated that more than nine-tenths of women keep house at some time in their lives.

More than 90 percent of the buying for the home is done by women. Nutritive food in the proper proportions, sanitary home conditions, economy in the home, are the basis of America's or any country's health, wealth and happiness.

But there is a negative fact of equal importance: The housewife who is so largely responsible for the American digestion and bank account is for the most part an unskilled laborer, whereas with training she might properly class her work among the professions.

Home's Badly Run
The home has been called the most costly institution in America, and it might equally well be called the most inefficient. It is largely because of unfortunate home conditions that we have with us juvenile delinquency, malnutrition, indigestion, the grouchy business man, and other "problems."

Up to now it has been taken for granted that the home-maker got adequate training as a girl in her parents' home, or, failing there, she picked up housekeeping naturally by experience. If a girl elected to delve into the technical business of calories and budgets at school, well and good. She was merely rounding out her education with extra accomplishments.

This idea of how housekeepers should be made is losing credence, partly because housekeeping has become a recognized field for science, and partly because the home school of household training is practically extinct.

Rarely is a girl given the thorough training in household affairs by her mother, like the daughter of the house a generation or two back. Mother is generally too busy getting through with housework so as to make time for chins and polities, and daughter's well-meaning offers to help make the pies are apt to be met with a distracted "I can do it while I'm showing you how."

Girls themselves, we are told, are more interested in home economics now than they have been for several years. Girls by the thousands have deserted the kitchen range for the factory bench, and if they have to keep the home fires burning too, they pick up something sketchy on the way home and eke out the meal with canned goods and raw fruits.

Women Want To Learn
The greater concern over housekeeping, now being displayed, is attributed to the wave of economy and the reduction of wages. It is not, however, a return to the old housekeeper's viewpoint of before the war. Women are beginning to accept what home economic experts have so long and patiently explained that housework need not be drudgery, that the principles of balanced meals can be grasped by any woman who will take time to study them, and in general, that home economics is not a subject limited to college textbooks, but that it is simply housework by methods tested by experts.

The bill which extends the opportunity for women and girls to become competent housekeepers provides $200,000 at the start, to be divided among the states according to population. To receive its share of the money, whatever it may be, each state has to put up a similar sum to be used for the same purpose. With the money teachers are to be engaged to take charge of classes, and girls are to be trained as home economics teachers. The bill stipulates that these student teachers must be given a four-year course. This is intended to insure a high standard in teachers provided for this vocational classes. The classes which the states would establish under the home economics bill would be for girls and women who expect to take up housekeeping or are already engaged in it. This includes girls who are in school women who work in the day and still keep house or plan to do so; domestic paid workers who want more training; and housekeepers who feel that they can still learn something about their work.

The bill definitely states that at least one-third of the sum allotted to any state must be applied to part-time schools or evening classes for girls and women over 14 years of age. Each state or school would plan its own course, according to teachers available, and the demand for subjects. In such courses there is practically always a class in the art of cooking. Another important subject for the courses would be dietetics, which deals with the food requirements of the body and how to satisfy them, making allowances for the differences in individuals.

Teach Women Buying

Every complete course in home economics nowadays includes a study of buying—clothes, food, house furnishings. It is estimated that women buy practically all of the dry goods and women's and children's clothing required for family consumption, nearly nine-tenths of the food, one-half of the household hardware and furnishings and perhaps one-tenth of the men's clothing.

One woman who appeared before the House Education Committee rehearsed these figures and added: "No business man would be willing to turn over to an absolutely untrained buyer the funds which he expects to invest in wool, wood, iron or steel for his factory, and yet that is what a very large percentage of our men do with that portion of their incomes which covers household expenditures, and these expenditures frequently absorb practically the whole income."

Most of the home buying is guided by an instinct for values which is supposed to be an infallible feminine trait. Unfortunately, sometimes mother gets cheated and very often sister does, merely from not knowing how to tell wool from cotton, or not understanding the psychology of bargain counters, or because she failed to note that the storekeeper was weighing his thumb with the sugar while he inquired solicitously about the family health. Intelligent buying is one of the least understood branches of housekeeping.

Closely allied with the technique of spending money is the art of keeping a family budget, and apportioning the income to the best of advantage. And then the courses arranged under the provisions of the bill would doubtless include sewing, home nursing, and sanitation.

The time may come when a housekeeper will be expected to know her business as well as anyone else.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

ANDREW W. MELLON

The man in charge of the office of secretary of the treasury in Harding's cabinet is Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh banker, and railroad man.

Andrew William Mellon was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1855. He was the son of the late Judge Thomas Mellon. In 1900 Mellon married Miss Nora McCullen. He was associated with the late Henry C. Frick in a number of enterprises.

He holds official positions in a large number of Pennsylvania banks. Mellon was at one time a trustee of the Carnegie Institute. He also founded the town of Donora, Pa. It is here that he established great steel mills.

The Way of the Cub

The cub reporter was grinding out a marriage notice. Finally he brought it up and laid it on the city editor's desk.

"Mr. and Mrs. Blank announce today the marriage of their daughter to take place next Monday."

"Huh," grunted the editor, "you can't say they announced a marriage yet to take place."
Again the cub jabbed away at his typewriter. And when he brought it back this time it read:

"Mr. and Mrs. Blank predicted today the marriage of their daughter."

Jimmy's Wish a Big One
"Don't you wish you was a bird, Jimmy and could fly way up in the sky?" mused little Jean dreamily.

"Now!" scorned Jimmy. "I'd rather be a elephant and squirt water through my nose."

The Encouraging Mother

The Forgotten Letter

"They say the cause of the quarrel was a letter his wife found in his pocket."
"One that he had forgotten to mail."
"No; one he had forgotten to burn."

The Cruel World of Learning

"There!" exclaimed six-year-old Bernice, throwing down a book, "I just ain't going to school another day."
"Why?" asked her mother, "what's the matter?"
"It's no use wasting time," replied the little miss. "I can't never learn to spell. The teacher just keeps changing the words every day."

No Picnic

"Yes, we were shipwrecked."
"Had to undergo some hardships, I suppose?"
"Some. There was no summer hotel handy."

Wise Jottings

Decollette bathing costumes are all right—as far as they go.
Some men enjoy chronic laziness as much as others a well earned rest.
Every time the sun shines the pessimist consoles himself with the thought that it is raining somewhere.
Most heroes outlive their greatness. Many a doctor has saved a patient's life by not being in when called.
A man may be all his wife thinks he is, but he is seldom what he thinks he is.
Our idea of a pleasing conversation is one who possesses the faculty of making a long story short.

revelations of the luxuries enjoyed by the famous Empress Josephine, wife of Napoleon, from 1796 to 1809. No society gossip in a Sunday paper of the present day records such extravaganzas or devotes for the pleasure of a woman and those of us who think the elegancies of life did not exist a hundred years ago may change our minds. The facts of which we shall write are from a book printed in France in 1809. Madame Napoleon changed her dress from four to six times each day. For summer wear she used four dozen pairs of silk stockings and three dozen pairs of gloves and shoes; and in winter English cotton and French silk stockings, never using washed stockings or putting on the same gloves or shoes twice. Once a month her complete wardrobe was divided among her maids of honor.

Her chemises were of finest calico, with lace borders that cost ten miles (845) each. Six dozen of these garments were made for her every month. Every three months all her diamonds and jewels were either changed or reset in new mountings, while her plate, china, furniture, tapestry, hangings and carpets were changed four times a year at the beginning of each season. Two new carriages and a dozen different horses were provided for her every month, and all her household assistants and employees received new accoutrements or liveries with equal frequency.

The royal lady had different personal equipments for traveling and for each of her three residences, where the same scheme of quarterly changes of furniture and interior decorations prevailed.

Now we are permitted to know the secrets of her exquisite bathing, cabinet. By pressing springs the perfume she desired for the occasion was mixed with the water. Other springs brought before her gaze while in the bath "pictures voluptuous, gay or libertine," as her fancy dictated. When she wished to leave the bath, on signal by a bell a mechanical device lifted her into a soft warm, perfumed bed, where she "dried in two minutes." From this bed, without moving her limbs or making the least physical effort, she was lifted and deposited upon an elastic sofa and moved into an adjoining cabinet for her toilet. The furniture and decorations of this cabinet cost $20,000 (100,000 lives). For her other private baths at Malmaison and St. Cloud the French royal paid $100,000.

We dare say the reader, by this time, has a new idea of the possible influence that expenses had on Napoleon when he determined to divorce Josephine.

But we have spied on these details of the daily life of a celebrated woman of a hundred years ago long enough.

Hens Built For Service

All hens are not alike. Some lay and some do not. May, found of eggs, spends no little time endeavoring to "make" his hens lay. He feeds them all sorts of prepared foods and shell eggs to stimulate egg production—usually in vain.

Students of hens of various breeds have learned that those with fair short backs, deep bodies and fairly long space from the base of the tail to the front of the keel bone have the physical characteristics of rapid droppers no matter what their breed may be. The Pennsylvania Farmer tells us 44 daughters of six males of the selected specifications averaged 180 eggs in their first laying year.

Somebody Always Knows
The paths of elandrine adventure into which men and women stray "by two and two" are crowded with perils. The by-paths of unconventionality and imprudence, in which the sense of social responsibility, duty and personal honor is banished, all lead to the shady way of life where reputation and all worth living for are so frequently lost.

Scarcely a day passes that somewhere somebody is not entangled in the mesh of unhappy circumstances, to write in the glare of a debasing publicity, always followed by a life-time of regret. These things may not be discussed in a clean newspaper with entire frankness, but one thing may be said without offense because of the warning it carries. It is this: There is no such thing as secret sin. Whatever disguises, precautions, safeguards, may be taken to avoid discovery and exposure, are in vain. Somebody always knows. Betrayal is certain. Society protects itself with its innumerable eyes, its omnipresence. Its psychic sense of something wrong. Guilt cannot be hidden. It discloses itself in a hundred subtle ways of which the guilty are wholly unconscious. The erring husband, wife or daughter cannot avoid the evidence. It may be covered by a thousand cunning cloaks, but it always burns its way through every barrier—always!

New-York-Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 9.—On Seventh Avenue north of the Pennsylvania station is "Second-Hand Row." For several blocks the architectural progress of the city has halted, leaving a row of low, dilapidated buildings given over to the sale of cheap second-hand clothing and what-not. Squat men of florid face—the bush-beaters of trade—stand in the gas lit doorway shouting bargains in gutteral sing-song cadences.

Great stocks of shoes, hung like bananas, suspended from awnings and tables on the sidewalks are piled mountain high with discarded and tattered cast-off clothing. It is a picturesque district, where bargaining becomes small bickering and no sale is made without a quarrel, with the salesman retreating into his shop with: "Take it! Take it! You're ruining my business, but I must live."

There are really many bargains to be found there if you know how to purchase. Actors at liberty and needing a fur coat to enhance their leading-actor Broadway curb invariably go to "Second Hand Row." Young men who wish to shine at some special gathering also find bargains in dress suits and Tuxedos.

At the northeast edge of the Row are a group of little tailor shops which draw their trade from the second-hand shops. It is their business to fashion the cast-off clothes into the latest Fifth Avenue and Broadway styles. Some of the effects they secure are quite marvellous and of clothes make the man, a fellow down on his luck may go to "Second Hand Row" and emerge fit to pass the inspection of an avenue ladies.

If one is in a hurry it is only possible to pass the Row by holding the head high and wearing a scornful expression. The slightest glance at any article will bring out the proprietor or "pullers in" and they are so ingratiating in their appeal "just to look" that it is almost impossible to resist.

The ancient wheeze of the practical joker in phoning a friend, knowing he is at lunch, and leaving the number of the Aquarium or the Bronx Zoo with the request that the friend call the number and ask for Mr. Fish or Mr. Bear, is not dead. The head keeper at the Bronx Zoo reports that he received an average of five inquiries a day for Mr. Lion, Mr. Bear or Mr. Fox. Down at the Aquarium it is just as bad.

Willard Mack wrote a play and presented it two weeks ago and it failed. Mack was recently declared a bankrupt, so it is obvious that he made money. He was "not" a crook drama, in ten days he wrote a crook drama and produced it and hired one of the largest theatres in town out of the bargain pail and he is filling it nightly.

The sleek young Tyndebreck types with the polished airs of a Tiffany clerk are quitting their jobs in a chain of New York cigar stores and seeking other pursuits. "Safety First" is their motto. Every day on or more awakens in a luck room bound and gagged with a large roll on the head as the result of a hold-up. Lucky types are supplanting them and each carries a "gat."

Q. How long would it take an aeroplane to go around the world, traveling at the rate of 100 miles an hour? A. N. O.

Q. It would depend upon the latitude. In actual flying time an aeroplane moving at the rate of 100 miles an hour would circle the globe at the equator in 10 days, 9 hours, of which time about three-fourths would be over water. If it followed the parallel of latitude 45 degrees north the time would be 7 days, 8 hours, of which slightly less than one-half would be over water.

Q. Will you kindly explain what brilliants are and of what value? A. O. O.

Q. The Geological Survey states that brilliant is the common form of cutting diamonds and it is not a kind of stone. Diamonds cut in this manner are called brilliants. The value of a brilliant depends upon the quality and the size of the stone.

Q. What do the initials C. T. mean on freight cars after the number? A. C. D.

Q. The initials mean "Columbian Trust" and were placed on all cars built under the United States Railroad Administration.

Q. Please inform me where I can find the expression "Jesus Christ, yesterday, today, and forever?" A. W. T.

Q. The wording of the 8th verse of the 13th chapter of Hebrews in the King James Version of the Bible is quite near the quotation you send. When did the restriction on the use of gasoline on Sunday go into effect and how long did it last? A. J. Y.

Q. The order made by the Fuel Administration during the war in regard to the restriction of using gasoline on Sunday was not a compulsory restriction, but merely a request, and applied to only certain parts of the country. This went into effect October 27, 1918, and was withdrawn October 17, 1919.

Q. What is meant by the Bride of the Rhine? A. The Rhine Moselle, a tributary of the Rhine is known as the Bride of the Rhine.

Q. Who holds the world's record for speed on the typewriter and how many words per minute did he write? A. J. C. D.

Q. The last contest for typewriting was an open contest at Madison Square Garden Business Show in the Fall of 1920. The contest was won by George L. Hossfeld, the record being 131 words per minute net and 7,843 words per hour.

Q. What does the expression mean: "I wouldn't give a denarius for that?" A. W. T.

Q. The denarius was the principal coin of the Romans under the Republic and the Empire. The value of the silver denarius, or penny, fluctuated but was approximately 25 cents. The expression might be paraphrased: "I wouldn't give a quarter for that"—or the more familiar one, "I wouldn't give a cent."

Albe Martin

Some awful howls of protest have gone up in this country, but just wait till you hear the sign of relief when Mr. Martin's girls permanently located on 'n' 't' correspondents go home. What's become of 'n' 't' old sign. "This is my busy day!"
